When applying for a visa, the screening process will be smoother if you first obtain a "Certificate of Eligibility (CoE)" from the Ministry of Justice's Tokyo Regional Immigration Services Bureau and use this CoE to apply for a "Student" visa.

If obtaining a "Certificate of Eligibility (CoE)", it is necessary to submit documents for the CoE application within the enrollment procedure period. Make sure to read "Application for Certificate of Eligibility" on the International Students Entrance Exam page of the Tokyo University of Science website, and check details regarding the procedure.

*For residents residing outside of Japan, it is necessary to apply for issuance of a visa at the Embassy of Japan or Consulate General of Japan in your country once you obtain the "Certificate of Eligibility (CoE)". It is not possible to switch from a "Temporary Visitor" visa to "Student" once you arrive in Japan.
